Night-The Work of Dennis Mehen Was a Feature-The Result.

ter-city series between the Young Bide Club, of this city, were played last night at Detweller's, South Wheeling, and while the over-the-river lads were on their hasners by a much smaller mergin than on the occasion of the games played at the Ohio town a weak or so ago. The feature was the play-ing of Dennis Mehen, the old-time champion, who strengthened the South champion, who strengthened the South Siders materially, and he was the star of the evening. For the visitors, Workman was the particular luminary, with Pine and Danford tied for second honors. Last night's games closed the series, which stand with thirty-eight victories for Bellaire to thirteen for the South Side.

The result of the contests inst night in detail, was as follows:

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

"When it comes to sending a ten-"When it comes to sending a ten-pound shell of sarcasm into an umpire I don't think any one will make Pausy. Tebeau a long shot in the betting," re-marked Bill Phillips to a group of play-ers at Hawley's yesterday afternoon, says the Cincinnati Commercial-Trib-tion. ers at Hawley's yesterday alternoon, says the Cincinnail Commercial-Tribune. "Soon after we had been and-bagged and drugged by Zeke Wilson out ef a game with the Perfectos we tackled them again, and Bert Jones, the erratic southpaw, who shortened his career with the Tebenuites by jumping the club, was on the rubber. As usual, he was very wild, but he explained to Pat that Umpire Swartwood's optics were twisted, and that he was being given a decidedly raw deal by that official. After he had given about eight bases on balls in one infing Tebeau walked over to Swartwood, and in that characteristic way of his, said: "Say, Swarty, if you can't see 'en just tip me off by holding up your finger, and I will let Zeke Wilson relieve you." Our gang on the bench heard the remark and almost fainted, for we had had one does of Wilson's umpiring, to had one dose of Wilson's umpiring, to bur sorrow."

The conversation then drifted into how unsophisticated and semi-profes-bional teams are often skinned by the ringing in of professional players. Billy Hart was responsible for the following Pale:

backed us to the limit. When we arrived on the grounds at Kenton a lot of kids who couldn't catch a cold were on the field practicing, and after we had watched them for awhile we concluded that it was a clinch for us, and our party raked and scraped together almost every cent we had and bet that we would win the game. Our money was eagerly taken, much to our pleasure. However, when the game was called nine strange players emerged from under the grand stand, and, to make a long story short, we were skinned by a score of 15 to 0. That night we learned that we had been gold-bricked in great shape. Three of the players were Hank O'Day, who pitched: Jim McGuire, now of Brookiya, who caught, and Billy Hoy, the muts. They were members of the Cleveland team, and received $50 each to play the game. Our party was skinned absolutely dry, and about five of them who had not purchased return tickets tried to evade the conductor by tokking themselves in and about five of them who had not purchased return tickets tried to evade the conductor by locking themselves in the wash room of our car. However, the conductor got next, broke the door open and put them off and they had to walk home."

McGovern-Gardner Fight.

Another delegation of Wheeling sports left for New York yesterday, to witness the fight at the Broadway Club, to-morrow night, between Terry McGovern, or Broodlyn, and Oscar Gardner, of this city. The local party at the ringside will be about ten in number, but it would have been trebled. at least, had more favorable railroad rates been secured. Interest in the outcome is in fever heat in this city, and while Oscar's defeat may not oc-casion much surprise, it will, neverthe-iess, fill the old town with gloom. One thing is certain, however, and that is that Oscar-will give a good account of himself.
